

Wednesday, May 24, 2017

To Whom It May Concern:

Radiation is not a normal contaminant in wrought aluminum alloys. It is not used in the manufacture of aluminum products at our facilities. Incoming scrap is screened by a radiation detector.

If you have any further questions, please contact Kaiser.

Regards,

Hong Xu, VP of Quality
Kaiser Aluminum Fabricated Products, LLC